TYLER CITIZENS PROVIDE INCENTIVES FOR H. S. AND COLLEGE STUDENTS

SCHOLARSHIP AND LOAN FUNDS ARE ESTABLISHED

Various Tyler clubs, organizations, and individuals have provided material incentives for the students of the Junior College and High School during this year. They have given recognition to meritorious work, and have made it possible, through scholarships and loan funds, for ambitious young men and women to continue in school.

Eleven college students have enjoyed the benefit of a sum of $1142.50, the total in scholarships and loan funds which have been available this year. Other scholarships previously used will go into circulation again next year; additional loan funds are being contemplated, and plans are being made to increase those already on hand.

The Rotary Club, which has for many years evinced a positive interest in student life, helped five students with a loan of $574.50. A significant part of the work of the college P. T. A. is the provision of a loan fund of $156.50 from which three students have drawn in past years and which is now sending one girl to college. The High School P. T. A. also maintains a scholarship fund of $70.00. It is expected that the amount will be increased to $156.50 next year.

H. S. SENIORS GIVEN TEA BY COLLEGE

The Apaches served tea to the graduating class of the Tyler High School, Friday, May 13. The receiving line composed of smiling braves and squaws, made the Lions feel completely at home in Apacheland. In the especially decorated Teepee the following program was rendered: xylophone solo, Helen Knight; violin solo, Myrlene Nerren; reading, Nell Duffy; piano selection, Frances Johnson; vocal solo, Mary Norman; piano solo, Christine Collins.

APPOINTMENTS FOR CAMP AUDUBON TRIP ARE MADE

A committee of seven teachers announced the winners of the annual Camp Audubon award given by Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Swann. James Parker and Edwin Rascoe will be the two representatives from the Senior High School. They will go with four other boys who were selected from the Junior Highs. The boys will remain in camp near Ward, Colorado, for eight weeks beginning about July 1st.

Mr. Swann is planning to give an entertainment for the camp boys in the near future.

P. T. K. Initiation to Be Held May 18th

The new members of Phi Theta Kappa will receive the final initiation at an assembly program on May 18. Those students who were pledged in January and who have maintained a high scholastic standing will be awarded with the Phi Theta Kappa pin at this time.

The officers for next year will be: Jahu Kay, president; Bonna Bess Jones, vice president; Marjorie Hicks, secretary; Louise Zarr, treasurer. Other initiates are John E. Hodges, Elizabeth Cuthrell, Mary Abbott, Travis Sampson, and Sunshine Neely.

This initiation will complete the third active year of Phi Theta Kappa in Tyler Junior College. This year the local organization was able to send two delegates—Travis Sampson and Virginia Buster—to the national convention, which was held at Brookhaven, Mississippi.

T. J. C. FRESHMEN ENTERTAIN SENIORS

The undergraduates entertained the graduating class of Tyler Junior College with a lawn party at the home of Sarah Bailey, on north Bois d'Arc on Friday evening, May 13, at eight o'clock.

Throughout the evening, games suitable for the lawn were played with enthusiasm. As a final courtesy the guests were served punch. A joyful school spirit prevailed, being expressed by college songs and yells.

MISS ROBERTS ATTENDS LIBRARY CONVENTION

Miss Ina Roberts, librarian of the Junior College and city schools, attended the 54th annual conference of the American Library Association which convened in New Orleans April 25-30.

A cosmopolitan group of 1500 librarians representing libraries from Canada to Central America met in the south's most interesting city to discuss "The Library in a Changing World," and to make plans for the exaltation of a profession whose exponents have built civilizations and unfolded democracies.

Dignitaries representing the greatest universities in America, moved the less significant workers to aspire to greater heights of service in their work. Lectures on the development of student reading, on book selection, on library finance, the librarian and scholarship, present-day literature, and on other equally interesting and informative subjects were delivered.

A cordial welcome was given the visiting librarians. Luncheons, dinners, tours of the city, and boat trips on the river and lake were given in their honor.

TYLER STUDENTS WIN IN MUSIC CONTESTS

The Tyler Junior College was well represented at the convention of the Federation of Music Clubs, held in Dallas May 7. Christine Collins, one of our talented Apache squaws, won the first place in the piano contest, entitling her to six weeks in Baylor University this summer. The contest was held in the Crystal Ballroom, and the Fine Arts program was given on Peacock Terrace in the Baker Hotel.

Mary Beth Norman, Genevieve Feagin, Grace Moore Skinner, and Bonna Bess Jones attended the complimentary luncheon on Peacock Terrace, and Bonna Bess played at the Fine Arts program.

Summer School Is To Open May 30

The regular Summer School for the Junior College and High School will begin on May 30 in the Hubbard building on the central campus. All work is fully accredited and instruction will be given by the members from the regular faculties.

Courses may be had in such subject matters as mathematics, English, history and education.

Each student is permitted to carry three courses. During the term of nine weeks, one semester's work in each subject may be completed.

National Honor Society Initiation Is Held Tuesday

Formal initiation of the National Honor Society was held Tuesday, May 10, with William Eliassof, president of the organization, presiding.

The invocation was given by Dr. Bryan, presiding elder of the Methodist church. Martha Christian played a violin solo which was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Jarrel. The address was delivered by Dr. Dubose Murphy, pastor of the Episcopal Church. The benediction was rendered by Father Saupier of the Catholic Church.

The members initiated were:

Mary Joyce Battenfield, Josephine Brinkerhoff, Monroe Bryan, Helen Burnett, Edwin Chilcote, Frances Corban, Louise Currie, Evelyn Edwards, William Eliassof, Owena Godfrey, Lillian Gage Golson, Pauline Heffler, Elizabeth Herrin, Albert Hill, Margaret Kilpatrick, Marie Frances Lee, Myra Bell Morris, Paul McClellan, Lulu Neill, Martha Odom, James Parker, Harold Roosth, Clarence Seal, Ala Sanders, Florine Shuttlesworth, Hazel Taylor, Nell Whitham, Avalon Willis, William York, Atrelle Thornton.

NEW BOOKS DONATED

Through the interest and efforts of the Business and Professional Women's Club, the high school library has received approximately twenty-five dollars worth of new books. The

GIRLS' FORUM TO JOIN FEDERATED CLUBS

The Girls' Forum of Tyler Junior College and High School is planning to join the Federated Clubs next year, according to Miss Adele Henderson, sponsor. This progressive step will greatly benefit the organization, for speakers and interesting program material are supplied by the Federated Clubs.

Many new clubs with small memberships are to be organized in the High School. It is expected that there will be at least thirty of these. The following program has been planned for next year:

September 30—Address, "Girls," Dr. Raby.
October 14—Federation Program, Elizabeth Phillips, speaker.
November 25—Address, Mrs. Alex Woldert, Sr.
December 9—Christmas Program.
January 15—"Health", Dr. J. H. Pope.
February 10—Readings and Short Stories, Mrs. Theresa Lindsey.
March 24—Texas Program, Senator Margie Neal.
April 14—"Successful Marriage", Dr. Hill.
May 12—Music Program.

Ray! Ray! for the team—and thousands rise to cheer. And the team piles up the score and brings victory to the school.

There will be a debate at — tonight —; the subject for debate is —; admission free.

And an empty auditorium hears the representatives of the school give an educational and intellectual discussion of the question.

A modern definition of debate is cooperative controversy. The opposing teams meet and agree upon what they disagree; then they debate to prove which is best. An audience would find real enlightenment on questions of momentous importance, if they followed the debates given by a high school or college team.

The governor of one state, realizing the value of debate as a means of convincing an intelligent audience of the worth of a question, had given out as the topic for high school debates, Resolved: That this State Should Adopt the Short Ballot Form of Government. These debates were held in prominent places in the towns, and all citizens were urged to attend. In this way the citizens were educated in the short ballot form of government. When the legislature submitted the vote to the people, they had definite opinions about it before they cast their votes.

The Texas inter-Scholastic topic for debate this year revolved around lobbying; because few students and citizens attended these debates, the majority does not know what are the good and bad points of this great national question.

Since debating is a means of enlightenment, it should be given utmost support, encouragement, and appreciation by the students and citizens of Tyler.

With the end of the college year rapidly approaching, many of us are thinking, "Has the year of college training filled off any of my undesirable edges; or, has it taken away from me something which I should have kept; or, has it left me untouched?" The slightly successful student will regret the loss of a few of his traits which he thinks set him apart from others. But the student who is a failure will not even think about it. His joy will be complete on the last day of school. The successful student however, can view the past year with a sense of achievement. He can feel that he is prepared to absorb life's next shock.

College is the place to formulate ideas of our own, and to acquire the ideas of others. Because of this fact, college training is broadening. Open minds are a crying need of present day civilization. The person with the broad mind is the happiest person that can be found, for he does not concern himself with trivial matters. The college-bred person is able by this training to place the proper stress upon important matters. It is for this that we attend college.

Throughout Texas and perhaps a more extensive territory, Tyler is known as the cultural town of Texas. Today many of our public-spirited citizens who realize the intrinsic value of culture, offer various rewards to students for special endeavor.

It is hard for a youth to see the essentiality of a cultural background when wealth seems to be the only criterion for judging the success of an individual. Naturally the impatient youth asks, "How will that help me make a dollar?" And if he does not see the simple answer to that question he is not willing to bother himself with the attainment of a cultural education. These wiser persons, convinced that the youth can never enjoy his capital to the utmost unless he has a broad education, offer premiums in which the near-sighted youth can see an opportunity for the immediate realization of his desire for success in the eyes of the world.

These discerning persons do much to make refinement and knowledge more popular in the sight of a generation that would be tempted to discard that part of life in their mad scramble for commercial successes. In setting the mind to work in these fields these citizens open the heart to culture, and the youth finds himself with a broader perception and appreciation of culture. The benefits accruing to the youth are manifold. Many who would never have a chance to continue their education are given the opportunity; the youths are given virtuous examples and ideals to follow; and their moral and intellectual selves are improved.

Recognition, thanks, and commendation, are due to those who offer scholarships and rewards for high standards of scholarship and citizenry and for essays.

MISS HIGHTOWER

Well—

I did think that by now I should be able to answer your query as to why it feels to be a lady of leisure, but not so. Since I've been back, my activities have almost equaled those of the proverbial one-armed paper-liner, or (to be even more elegant) those of the cat on the tin roof!

Nor is variety lacking. I find myself cultivating such extremes as grading papers in the district and the state contests of the Latin tournament, and attending the Round-Up Ball, going to the picture show, and to the Phi Beta Kappa lecture; visiting classes in the University, and so on. Through the field and gathering for a national sorority, I was urged to establish a chapter.

To make matters worse, I am a member of the Folklore Society the day I met a boy who used to sing to me in several classes at S. M. and who asked me what I was going to do now. When I replied "Just being a lady," he retorted: "What? Do you try to tell me that. I know you, Mary Louise Hightower. You're a lady!"

You can see the plight I'm in; I am no lady, and I have no leisure. Perhaps your question is answered, after all.

Believe it or not, in spite of my failure to tell you sooner, I have really been thinking of my friends in Tyler very frequently, and recalling with pleasure the weeks I spent in the town. It is on my conscience that I have not written to express gratitude to the students for their having honored me with the farewell party. But whom to thank? Please won't you convey to the proper ones my sincerest appreciation of themselves and their kindness to me?

HIGH SCHOOL OBSERVES NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK

The chapel periods of the high school on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 3rd and 4th, were devoted to observance of National Music Week and National Health Week.

Mr. S. B. Burk, principal, introduced Mrs. Alfred Goldman, chairman of the musical program. Mrs. Goldman arranged a pleasing program of dance, piano, and vocal numbers, including: a military dance, by Emma Jo Ball; a piano solo by Miss Mabel Lee Lawrence; a toe dance by Winnie Pittman; and two vocal solos, The Americans Come, and a negro spiritual, Golden Crowns, by Mrs. Goldman. Miss Lawrence accompanied the dance and vocal selections at the piano.

Miss Vera Manire, teacher of physical education, had charge of the "Health" program. Miss Manire introduced Dr. Wm. M. Bailey who chose as his subject, "Health, A Business."

Dr. Bailey stated that he had a business proposition to discuss—the biggest business there is. He said that good health is not merely the absence of pain and disease, but is the thing that puts "punch in the blow." Dr. Bailey emphasized the importance of cleanliness, of the care of the teeth and of the eyes. He also pointed out the value of mental hygiene—of cultivating serenity and cheerfulness.

Dr. Bailey's talk proved both interesting and instructive. He concluded with the admonition that the rules of health which he had pointed out be followed in order that comfort might be increased, usefulness extended, and lives prolonged.

A. K. K. ENTERTAINS

H. S. GIRL GRADS

The A. K. K.'s had the greatest pow-wow of the year when they entertained the High School girl graduates on Thursday, May 5. With Christine Collins as drum major, the guests were conducted to the woods near the Tyler Milk Plant. While resting under the trees, Virginia Buster demonstrated some of her black magic, the song birds of T. J. C. entertained with several school songs, and the guests were given a peep into the deep, dark mysteries of the A. K. K.'s. After games were played, punch and cakes were served. The A. K. K.'s agreed that the guests could become good Apache swuaws.

EMILY DICKINSON

By BILLY SANDERS

She was apart from all the world, And dwelled within herself; No alien spirit touched her— For Emily was an elf.

And in her created universe She danced a mad dance, Heeding no one. Here she formed Her riotous rhythms; and with a lance

Of piercing wit and a wail of laughter, She rode her impetuous spirit As a steed, going forth to conquer. And Emily conquered, with a lyric.

Simplicity of poignant passion That strikes the heart—then tears Through the body with a dizzy force— For it is Man she bares!

To his life, ideas, aspirations she turns Her clairvoyant sympathy, and in the sun,

Flowers, and the wind she feels beauty, and fuses Man and Nature into one.

Oh, Emily, how quaintly odd, unique, are; obeying no rules, no laws, and wild as the sea you run—

Most gloriously intoxicated poet the world ever saw—

A tippler leaning against the sun."

FACULTY ENJOYS ANNUAL PICNIC

Spring in East Texas makes even the adults long to follow the trail, to the woods and lakes with a sandwich in the pocket and a fishing rod over the shoulder.

Thursday, May 5, the annual faculty picnic was held at the Patterson home Greenbriar Lake. One hundred and fifty persons attended. The group was composed of faculty members from all the grade schools, the junior high schools, the senior school, the junior college, and friends.

The members arrived early in the morning for fishing. Later arrivals found the lake in motorboats while they enjoyed the swings. Then as the picnic came on bridge tables appeared in the living room for those who appreciate this game.

At the call of the big bell the picnic ended in the most interesting manner. All the delicious food, the delicacies of barbecued chicken, potato salad, sliced tomatoes, relish, deviled eggs, coffee, ice cream, and angels' and devils food cake.

MRS. WILCOX ADDRESSES GIRL GRADUATES CLUB

Mrs. Melvin Wilcox, town sponsor of the Girl Graduates Club, addressed the club Wednesday, May 5, on "Ideals."

"This is the day of efficiency," said Mrs. Wilcox. "We are conserving our forests, but we are not conserving our lives."

"We are able to get what we want! When we are young this seems a big thing, but as we grow older, we lose

T. H. S. BOOK CLUB CLOSES YEARS' WORK

The Book Club of T. H. S. plans to close the year's work with a picnic next Wednesday. Mythology is the subject for study and it is anticipated that the woodland scenery will provide an admirable setting for the legends which each member will contribute.

It has been the purpose of the club to study contemporary writers and their works. The programs have included the study of drama, Texas writers, Tyler poets, and modern American poetry.

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the year was that with Mrs. L. A. Kayser, town sponsor, as hostess. At this time Mrs. Alma Woldert Spence, one of Tyler's outstanding poets, delighted the club with the reading of her own poems.

At the last meeting of the club, three of America's leading poets—Edna St. Vincent Millay, Vachel Lindsay, and Amy Lowell—were the subjects of talks by Helen Freeman, Phyllis Sneed, and Josephine Brinkerhoff, respectively.

The members of the club are: Josephine Brinkerhoff, president, Marie Frances Lee, vice-president, Margaret Maynor, secretary, Phyllis Sneed, Outstanding Students Who's Who In T. J. C.

This year in T. J. C. has been one which produced, developed, or found many outstanding students, but among these there are only a few who have been duly recognized. It is the purpose of this article to uncover the names of a few who have excelled in a modest way and have not heretofore received any sign of our appreciation of their work.

When the Girls' Forum is mentioned one of the first to be thought of is the secretary, Elizabeth Cuthrell. Quiet and unassuming though she is, she has played a part which will have much influence on the Forum in the future.

Robert H. Land, better known as "Bob," has been always willing to help anyone in any way possible, has worked unselfishly in any and every position or trust given to him. Coming to T. J. C. from a distant section, a deep thinker, unafraid to voice his opinions, and sometimes a radical, has found his way into the hearts of the students.

Diminutive and quiet, Helen Maynor has this year made a name for herself in T. J. C. as president of the A. K. K.'s. She has managed in a most capable way this most ancient, picturesque, and appropriate organization of the Apache Tribe.

It is hard to miss a year in a school and then return to your old place. Clara Seay has demonstrated that can be done. As a Council Group president she has had an influence upon the less initiated freshmen.

One of the most optimistic boys of the tribe, always laughing, carefree and rushed to death, Glover Turner has nevertheless found time to do some really constructive work. He has excelled as a manager for in college dramatics.

Sunshine is a price less and that is exactly what she has been in T. J. C. of the college a brighter, more luminous outlook on lege student does not welcome and appreciate her "sunny" disposition.

For sterling character and a spirit that cannot be downed, we offer Alma Olive as the model of what a real college student should be.

Edward Potter has not shone in student activities this year, but he, with his more mature judgment and outlook, has acted as a balancing influence in the college.

TYLER CITIZENS PROVIDE INCENTIVE FOR STUDENTS

of 1930 The Young Citizens Club to be composed of one boy and one girl from each of the two Junior High Schools, the Senior High School and the Junior College. Membership in this club is based on sound qualities of character. Students in both schools consider election to membership in it an outstanding honor.

A political platform is just like the one on the back of a street car—not meant to stand on, just to get in on.

LITERARY WORKSHOP GROUP IS ENTERTAINED

The Literary Workshop of the Tyler Junior College was delightfully entertained Wednesday evening, May 11, at 4:00 in the home of Mrs. Mary S. Fitzgerald, the town sponsor.

To the members of the Workshop, the reading of a variety of poems by Mrs. Fitzgerald, one of Tyler's own poets, was not only enjoyable but was an appropriate close for the year's work.

"How did they treat you in Scotland?"
"Reluctantly."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

By CLARENCE HARRISON

The Tyler Junior College-High School Baseball team ended their season recently with a record of five lost and three won. The result of each game was:

1. Brownsboro 13, Tyler 4, pitcher, Murphy.
 2. Brownsboro 7, Tyler 8, pitcher, Ray.
 3. Gladewater 7, Tyler 3, pitcher, Murphy.
 4. Brownsboro 5, Tyler 7, pitcher, Ray.
 5. Gladewater 7, Tyler 4, pitcher, Kay.
 6. Lufkin 13, Tyler 5, pitcher, Murphy.
 7. Lufkin 8, Tyler 7, pitcher, Welch.
 8. Mayfield 1, Tyler 5, pitcher, Ray.
- Totals, opponents 59, Tyler 43. Tyler's chief weakness seemed to be in their inability to hit consistently, and they had to play strong semi-pro teams.

At the recent track meet at Nacogdoches, Edwin Roseoe and William Crawford tied for the high jump. G. B. Hicks won first place in both low and high hurdles. Arthur Johnson won the 440. Hicks and Roscoe went to the State meet in Austin, but failed to place high. In the girls' tennis singles Frances Garrett won her way to the semi-finals, before she was eliminated 6-4, and 8-6. Dorothy Newman and Katherine Kaemmerlin, girls' doubles, were also eliminated in the semi-finals. Eugene Talbert, boys' singles, was eliminated in the first round, as were J. B. Birdwell and C. B. Hicks, boys' doubles. All were close matches.

Spring football practice uncovered some new material that looked exceedingly bright. As only four lettermen return to next year's team, most of the vacancies will be filled with last year's squadmen. The regulars defeated a second team 13-0. On the last day of practice, kicking, blocking, tackling, passing, and teamwork were stressed, with very few actual plays given. Alfred "Moco" Neeley, Captain S. M. U. football team in 1931, and former high school star here, will be assistant coach under Mr. King.

Tennis Tournament Held In Fort Worth

Representatives from Tyler Junior College in the tennis tournament held May 3 in Fort Worth were eliminated early in the singles division while the doubles team got as far as the semi-final round before being put out of the race by the champions.

Ed Kliever, Tyler's No. 1, was defeated in the first round by Warrington, of Hillsboro, in a long and hard fought three-set match, 6-8, 8-6, 8-6. Kliever had ten set-points against him during the match and won all of them except two.

Olney Davis, second Apache entry was eliminated in the first round by Stubblefield, of Paris, 6-6, 6-2. The first set was well played, but Davis suffered a let-down in the second set and could not hit his stride.

Ed Kliever and Ed Leach, playing together for the first time this year, defeated College of Marshall in the doubles tournament for the right to enter the semifinals. Scores were 6-3, 6-3. Banks and James represented the Tigers.

In the semi-final round, Kliever and Leach met Couser and Theatt of John Tarleton Agricultural College, and were defeated in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3. This match featured the brilliant net game and overhead attack of the Plowboys, who defeated Key and Harrison, of Amarillo, 6-4, 6-3 for the championship of Texas.

The team was accompanied to Fort Worth by Professor J. C. Hodges, who has acted as business advisor to the team throughout the season.

HI-Y HOLDS LAST MEET

The last formal meeting of the Tyler Chapter of the Affiliated Hi-Y Clubs of North America was held Monday, April 25, at 7:30 o'clock. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read, Monroe Bryan gave an itemized account of the liabilities and assets of the club. This statement revealed a surplus of several dollars in the treasury.

Mr. Bachman gave a talk on the accomplishments of the organization during the past year.

Plans were discussed briefly for an outing in the near future. Although it was not definitely agreed upon, there will likely be another informal meeting before the end of school.

DRAMATIC CLUB MEETS

The Dramatic Club, with Mrs. R. A. Stehr as sponsor, meets every Wednesday evening. Sometimes programs have been arranged and at other meetings the members are each asked to contribute something to the entertainment. A "Kangaroo Court" is to be held at the next meeting. At a recent meeting the name "Amateur Dramatic Actors" was selected. The purpose of this club is to teach the members something of dramatic art and to try to relieve "stage fright."

DO YOU KNOW—

Why they call 'em stands when it's where you sit down—that two halves make a hole and the quarterback goes through—that the New York Giants aren't such big men—that Connie Mack has managed the Philadelphia Athletics since the team was organized in 1901—that "Babe" Ruth never hit a home run as a pinch hitter—that school is nearly out!?

PURPOSE OF W. A. A.

All girls who are interested in sports and who plan to attend Junior College next year should know something about the W. A. A. This organization has for its purpose to encourage athletic development as a means of promoting skill in sports, recreation, fellowship, and health among the girls. In this connection awards are made each year, based on these considerations: points earned in the various sports; a C average in scholastic work; and character, which includes dependability, a constructive attitude, consideration for others, and a spirit of optimism. This year the first award was a scholarship of seven-fifty dollars, which was won by Miss Virginia Buster. Plans are that a similar scholarship will be given next year. Other prizes of Indian blankets and letters will also be awarded.

The W. A. A. is divided into sections including tennis, hiking, and health month, thus providing activity for all those who are athletically inclined. A Physical Training Credit acceptable in other schools is given for this work.

Win Second in Debate

Edward Kliever and John E. Hodges won the final round of the Junior College debate tournament in Temple, Texas, by defeating the team from Baylor College, on Friday.

The team won their way to the championship by defeating the College of Marshall in the first round by a unanimous decision; then by defeating the team from Baylor College in the second round by a 2-1 decision.

"Dear teacher," wrote an indignant mother, "you must not whack my Tommy. He is a delicate child and can't be used to it. At home we never hit him except in self-defense."

question: "What is the purpose of the National Government?" As practiced in the National Government Detrimental to the Best Interests of the People, got a 2-1 decision to win the state tournament. Both the Plainview and Tyler teams received engraved loving cups.

In the girls oratorical contest Oracy Hankerson won fourth place, using the modern youth's relation to his parents as her theme.

FRENCH CLASSES ENJOY THEIR ANNUAL BANQUET

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the French classes of the Junior College entertained with their annual banquet in the high school cafeteria.

A color scheme of red and blue was carried out in the decorations and menu, red roses and larkspur being used effectively in decorating the tables. Place cards showed miniatures of Eiffel Tower.

The entertainment and decoration committees were composed of Myrlene Nerren, Elizabeth Thedford, Norman Smith, Frances Beal, and Billy Pounders.

The delicious dinner was served by members of the Spanish classes. The menu consisted of: tomato cocktail, baked fish, creamed chicken in pattie shells, english peas, congealed salad, mint ice, cheese, rolls.

PARALLEL LINES

Teacher: "Ikke, this is a very good theme on 'The Autobiography of My Life,' but it is exactly like your twin brother Mike's. What have you to say to that?"

Ikke: "Well, Ma'am, you see, it's this way, we're twins."

SENIORS PLAN FOR MUSEUM CASE

Plans are being made by the Senior Council Group to buy a museum case for the Junior College library, in order to preserve valuable documents, rare books, confederate money, and trophies belonging to the college.

A sum of $3.40 has already been raised by the Seniors. Misses Clara and Alice Woodward, who have contributed important documents relating to the early history of Texas, have offered to donate five dollars.

Designs are now being drawn up to be submitted to the committee. The cost of this case is approximately fifty dollars.

The addition of this case will not only afford a secure place for the valuable collections which have already been made, but will be an inspiration for other equally splendid gifts.
